Heading South

On their way to more pleasant surroundings, these blackbirds take a rest from their journey to a warmer climate down south. Planoites couldn't escape the first fall chill, however, as temperatures dropped into the 40's following a norther early last week. Although warm weather lasted through October, forecasters predict cold temperatures from now on. (Staff photo by Mike Newman).

Light Turnout Seen For Amendment Vote

Only 21 Ballots Cast During Absentees

A light turnout is expected for the Tuesday constitutional amendment election.

Only 21 votes were cast absentee in Plano, according to Election Judge Stan Brimberry. Tuesday, 56 polling places across the county will be open from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m.

Propositions on the ballot include the constitutional amendment:

—Increasing the size of the Court of Criminal Appeals to nine judges and permitting the court to sit in panels of three judges.

—Permitting denial of bail to a person charged with a felony offense who has been theretofore twice convicted of a felony offense or charged with a felony offense committed while that person was admitted to bail on a prior felony indictment, or charged with a crime involving the use of a deadly weapon where there is evidence such person has been convicted of a prior felony offense; providing for a 60-day limit to that person's incarceration without trial; and providing for that person's right of appeal.

—Authorizing tax relief to preserve certain cultural, historical or natural history resources.

—Authorizing the formation of agricultural or marine associations which may mandate the collection of refundable assessments for improvement of production, marketing or use of their products.

—To give the legislature the power to authorize state and national banks to exercise banking and discounting privileges by use of electronic devices or machines.

—Changing the name of the State Judicial Qualifications Commission to the State Commission on Judicial Conduct, and relating to the commission and the powers and proceedings of the commission, a master, and the Supreme Court, or Court of Civil Appeals justices serving in place of the Supreme Court, for the suspension, censure, removal or involuntary retirement of a justice, judge or justice of the peace under certain circumstances.

Airport Planners Meet in McKinney

A Texas Airport System Plan regional planning meeting will be held at 10 a.m., Wednesday, November 9, in the Council Chambers of the McKinney City Hall, 130 South Chestnut, McKinney.

Airport development needs of Collin, Denton, Hunt, and Rockwall Counties will be discussed. The meeting will be conducted by the Texas Aeronautics Commission.

All area citizens with an interest in air transportation and airport development are invited to attend. Participating in the meeting will be city and county elected officials, airport board members, airport managers, representatives of the North Central Texas Council of Governments, and other citizens. During the meeting, the airport development needs currently identified in the Texas Airport System Plan for area airports will be reviewed.

Airport pavement maintenance and rehabilitation programs will be covered. The availability of state and federal funds for airport development will be discussed.

Information on area economic development, community goals and objectives, and other factors that may influence the need for, or timing of, airport development will be requested.

The Texas Airport System Plan, developed for Texas and the Federal Aviation Administration by the Texas Aeronautics Commission, was published in January 1976.

Georgia Disaster Drowns 37

Flood Search Renewed

TOCCOA, Ga. (UPI) — Rescuers kept a vigil over a leaking 200-gallon propane gas tank through Sunday night and said the search will be renewed today for more possible victims of a ruptured earthen dam that drowned at least 37 persons in tons of cascading water.

Gov. George Busbee awaited a damage estimate so he could request federal disaster aid from President Carter, who received a first-hand report from his wife, Rosalynn, on her personal inspection of the scene.

Swelled by five days of steady rain, the waters of 80-acre Kelly Barnes Lake burst through the dam between 1:30 a.m. and 2 a.m. EST Sunday, sending tons of red, muddy water cascading down Toccoa Creek onto the sleeping campus town of Toccoa Falls College.

The swirling water, estimated by some witnesses to be 30 feet high, washed into houses and dormitories and swept away trailers occupied by married students and their families.

"I just stood there and watched the trailers being washed away," said Tom Stacey, 24, a student. "They were banging into each other and being crushed. You could hear people trapped inside screaming."

Nineteen of the victims were children, in many instances swept from the grasping hands of their parents.

"I tell you what got me was the kids," said Busbee, who inspected the area Sunday. "I saw them bring out three little kids and a daddy, and I knew the mother was back up under the debris somewhere."

Jaworski Supporting Immunity Proposal

HOUSTON (UPI) — Leon Jaworski, who is heading the Congressional investigation into the South Korean influence buying scandal, says he supports a proposal to grant immunity to Tongsun Park.

Jaworski, in his hometown to dedicate the St. Joseph Mental Center, said Sunday he supported a Justice Department proposal to grant Park immunity in exchange for testimony about congressmen accepting bribes as long as it did not hamper further investigation.

Investigators say there is little chance of identifying or indicting congressmen without Park's help.

"I wouldn't want any arrangement to prevent us from pressing the matter beyond Park," he said.

Jaworski said he considers Park only a minor participant in the South Korean government's attempt at influence buying on Capitol Hill.

"The whole program was one launched by the Korean government," Jaworski said. "I think Park has a relative minor function."

Jaworski said when he accepted the role in the investigation he had demanded Congressional cooperation and praised the body for its assistance.

"I think Congress is doing a good job of putting the heat on the Korean government for cooperation," he said. "This was due to my request and resolution."

"If the Korean government cooperates, this will all come out."

Service League Benefits Plano

Heritage House, Library Receiving Volunteer Help

(Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of four articles on the Plano Service League.)

Heritage House and Gladys Harrington Public Library are two Plano institutions that benefit from Service League volunteer hours.

The league members organized a docent program at Heritage House last December, and since that time, the docents have taken some 800 people through the Victorian farm house.

Among the guests was Mrs. Jonnie Harrington, the daughter-in-law of the home's 92-year occupant, Ammie Wilson. Mrs. Lynch, in visiting with the docents, told them about life in the house when it was the center of a working farm.

Most of the tour groups are school-age children, always fascinated with the razor strap, the storm cellar, the bed chamber and the back porch well. Last spring a group of 350 seventh graders from Bowman Middle School toured the home as a part of their Texas history studies.

The tours are offered from 1 to 5 p.m. on the first and third Tuesdays of each month. Group tours may be arranged through Janie Christie, 423-9488.

In addition to the Heritage House docent program, the league members have begun a restoration program for the landscaping of the home.

League members, in consultation with Neill Sperry of Texas A&M at Renner, have researched the design and are now working to restore the 1890s landscape.

Groups of Girl Scouts, Bluebirds, Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts have donated many hours of work in weeding and transplanting, and Girl Scout Troop No. 1107 has donated money for the purchase of Floribunda roses for the formal rose garden.

Among the landscaping plans are old-fashioned flower gardens, a kitchen herb garden and rose-arched walks.

Flowers may be donated by phoning Diana Mallonee at 424-4857 or Pat Evans at 423-6312.

League volunteers at the library perform a variety of functions, from shelving and checking books to mending damaged books and manning the telephones.

Workers at the library include Susan Harmon, Joan Reaves, Coni Osborn, Diana Mallonee, Jeri Haggard, Suzanne Gordon, Nancy Amos and Connie Eikenburg. Mrs. Eikenburg also serves on the Library Board.

Many uses for old sheets

By Polly Cramer

POLLY'S PROBLEM

DEAR POLLY—I have two old king size bed sheets with a few tears in them and would like some ideas for using the good parts. I have made pillowcases out of others but these have been used for years and are too far gone for that. — S.H.

DEAR S.H. — I never throw away a worn sheet but keep them and always find a use for every inch. I have used such good parts for lining small curtains. They make great inner covers to hold the stuffing for pillows such as crewel work, needlepoint and other fancy ones. The last bits can always be used as cleaning and pressing cloths. If you like to attach bed dust ruffles to a base that fits between the springs and mattress even pieced strips of old sheets work just fine. Save them and some use will surely turn up. Readers, what suggestions do you have? — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY—An adjustable ironing board makes a great stand for a portable sewing machine or typewriter. It allows space for materials and can be raised or lowered to a comfortable height when sewing or typing. — MADE-LINE.

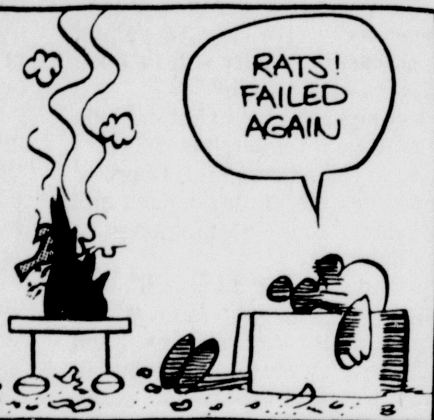

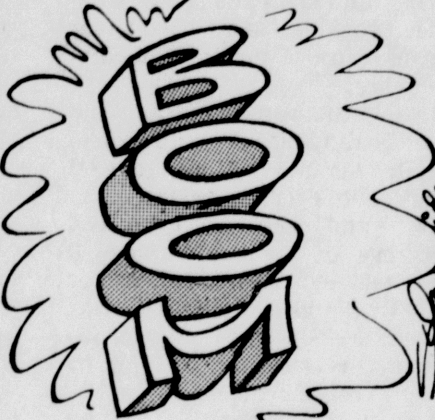

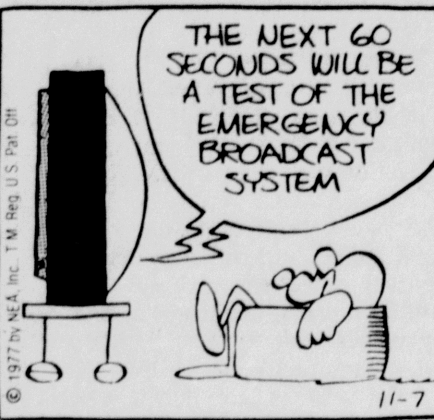

DEAR POLLY—My contribution is sort of a combination Pet Peeve and Pointer. Of course, there are countless people who have aquariums and every few months the water has to be changed. What a mess. I would always wonder what to do with the water. Should I put it down the drain or dump it in the toilet? Now I have learned to put this water to good use. I take a plastic container and scoop out this water and water my house plants with it. I have been doing this for some time and they look so green and healthy and grow like crazy. This fish water acts like a fertilizer. If you are afraid of an odor in the house use such water on your outdoor garden. My garden has been in bloom all summer long and I have received so many compliments so what is there to say but "Keep your fish tank clean and your plants will be green." — DAVID.

DEAR DAVID—For years I have used a liquid commercial fish fertilizer on my plants and think it is great. The faint odor it leaves soon disappears. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY—I would like to share the way I keep flowers brought in from my garden for a longer time. I always cut them in the early morning or in the evening after the sun goes down and put them in water as they are cut. When ready to arrange the flowers I cut each stem on an angle, remove all leaves below the water line, put warm water in the container and add an aspirin. Always keep a flower arrangement out of the direct sunlight and change the water about every three days and always add an aspirin to the fresh warm water. — JEAN S.

DEAR POLLY—Always keep a nut pick handy to use for untying difficult knots or removing stubborn corks from bottles. — MARY B.

Woods and Water Winners

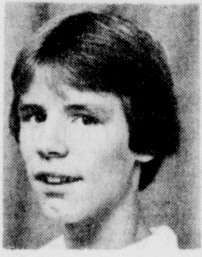

Helping to capture the team trophy at the recent Texoma Day competition for high school outdoors clubs are Plano Senior High Woods and Water Club members (left to right) Everett Spetter (first in fishing with the largest stringer and third with the largest bass), Diana Weber (second in canoeing), Michelle Chopin (third in fishing), Denise Heinselman (second in canoeing with Ms. Weber) and Connie Bontz (first in archery). Competing as the smallest club with only 16 members, Plano won the trophy over 25 other schools. More than 500 students from the North Texas area participated in the competition. Cyndi Pierson is sponsor of the PSHS club. (Staff photo).

For... The Record

By Steve Soltaz and Jeff Brown

"SIMPLE DREAMS" For over ten years Linda Ronstadt has proved her abilities as a top notch, progressive country and western singer. On her latest work, "Simple Dreams", (Asylum Records) Ronstadt experiments with hard and soft country blues mixed in with a little rock. She, like many other L.A. based musicians, is trying desperately to explore for greater variety while still not changing styles. "Simple Dreams" clearly points out Ronstadt's various vocal abilities, but it shows that the new material is not overwhelmingly impressive.

The opening side is highlighted by an old Buddy Holly song entitled "It's So Easy," in which Ronstadt uses her country rock influences to the maximum. The rest of the material on this side is soft blues ranging from Janis Joplin to Barbara Streisand-type vocals. These tunes seem to be more or less a fill-in for the remainder of the track.

Side two of the album is far superior. "Blue Bayou," another old song, is done in a fine country blues fashion with a little help from back-up vocalists Kenny Edwards and Don Henley. The next piece, "Poor, Poor Pitiful Me," is the best song to be found on this L.P. The lyrics written by Warren Zevon, seem to exemplify Ronstadt's bustling lifestyle. "Tumbling Dice," an old Stones hit, is equally impressive, as Ronstadt's voice fits in with the lyrics like a puzzle. Even though some of the material on "Simple Dreams" seems to be out of place, no one can blame Linda Ronstadt for her efforts. (B)

ELP CONCERT

Emerson, Lake, and Palmer stood at the edge of the stage, bowed and waved good-night to a crowd of 14,000. They had just finished their second encore "Fanfare for the Common Man", and the audience was on its feet shouting for more. The show lasted two and a half hours and left just about everyone stunned.

The concert began with an Aaran Copland number entitled "Hoedown", in which Keith Emerson took the spotlight with his keyboard theatrics. Following were excerpts from ELP's second album "Tarkus", and then they moved onto their bigger hits "Take a Pebble", and "Lucky Man". Greg Lake who handled all the vocals was very impressive especially on "C'est LaVie", an acoustic piece from "Works Vol. I". After a short intermission the three came back on stage and performed an excellent version of "Karn Evil 9, First Impression, Part Two". Lakes' opening greeting of "Welcome Back My Friends To The Show That Never Ends", picked the audience up for the remainder of the night. The highlight of the second set was a drum solo performed by Carl Palmer during "The Enemy God", in which his drum platform rotated completely around exposing two large gongs. The mixtures of Palmers percussion wizardry and the lighting effects upon the platform created a scene that will long be remembered.

ELP left the stage following a group of cuts from "Pictures At An Exhibition" and "Works Vol. I & II" (The latter will be released within a few weeks). They returned within minutes and proceeded to play two of the finest-arranged pieces of the night—"Pirates" and "Fanfare for the Common Man". The show finally ended with "Show Me The Way to Go Home". Although many people thought their stage show could have been extended, ELP made up for this by offering excellent, quality music.

"STREET SURVIVORS"

Lynyrd Skynyrd's sixth album "Street Survivors" (MCA) contains the group's finest arrangements. The music is primarily rock based with country and blues mixed in some of the songs. The album continues to deliver their excellent southern guitar work performed by lead guitarists Allen Collins and Gary Rossington with Steve Gaines on rhythm guitar. The group has been known for this work since 1969 when they first started out. The guitar performances stand out on "What's Your Name" and "That Smell", the better two cuts from the album. As usual most of the tunes were by the group's lead vocalist Ronnie Van Zant and the three guitarists. The exception was one song written by Merle Haggard entitled "Honky Tonk Night Time Man" in which pianist Billy Powell provides an excellent keyboard solo. Neil Young also offered the group three songs for the album, but Van Zant replied "we were unable to make 'em sound like Lynyrd Skynyrd". Definitely not an album to be left on the shelf.

The album also has a special meaning for L.S. fans. It will be the last for three fine members of the group. Recently-joined guitarist Steve Gaines, his sister Cassie, who sang back up vocals, and lead singer Ronnie Van Zant were three of six persons who died Oct. 20 in a fatal plane crash near McComb, Miss. (B+++)

On Oct. 29 concert buffs at Dallas Memorial Auditorium received their Halloween "treat" two nights early. The Doobie Brothers hit the stage for well over an hour and a half ringing out the first chords of "China Grove" to kick off the evening. Then, without a pause, they burst into "Taking it to the Streets" which was written by recently-joined keyboardist Michael McDonald who also handled the vocals on the song. The Doobies played all of their old hits as well as their more recent ones, such as "It Keeps You Runnin'" and "Taking it to the Streets". The group also played many cuts from their latest release "Living on the Fault Line". This album has marked a change for the Doobies. They have moved more toward the jazz scene.

The audience was gifted with two treats from dual guitarists Patrick Simmons and Jeff "Skunk" Baxter (who played seated during most of the concert). The duo sat on the edge of the stage, feet dangling audience-bound, during an excellent guitar solo. The second treat came when the pair suddenly decided to play a few bars from "Reelin' in the Years", an old Steely Dan tune (the group Jeff Baxter formerly played with). When the evening was coming to an end the audience could only spark a single encore with the group Pablo Cruise joining them to play an old Doobies hit "Listen to the Music". The group played a well fermented 1½ hours. Unfortunately the audience lacked much enthusiasm.

Election Causes Little Controversy

AUSTIN, Texas (UPI) — A proposal permitting Texas banks to utilize remote computer terminals to electronically transfer funds from one account to another has sparked the only hint of controversy involving Tuesday's statewide election on seven proposed constitutional amendment.

The proposal — No. 6 on the ballot — would permit the legislature to provide for use of electronic fund transfer systems in Texas. Most major banks have favored the proposal, while some small banks, consumer groups and a candidate for state treasurer have opposed it.

If the electronic fund transfer systems are permitted, banks could, for instance, install terminals in a grocery store. A customer at the store then would have money electronically transferred from his account to that of the store instead of giving the store a check for the purchase.

The seven proposals on Tuesday's ballot are among 15 proposed constitutional amendments passed by the 1977 legislature. The remaining eight will be submitted to voters at the 1978 general election.

Those on Tuesday's ballot include:

Amendment No. 1

A proposal to expand the size of the Court of Criminal Appeals from the present five to nine members, and allow the court to sit in panels of three to hear appeals in most criminal cases.

The Criminal Appeals Court is among the most overburdened in the United States, and backers of the plan say the expansion proposal will accelerate the handling of appeals.

Opponents contend a better approach would be a statewide system of regional appellate courts for criminal cases similar to the system for civil cases.

Amendment No. 2

Authorization for issuance of an additional $200 million in bonds for the Veterans Land Program, and to make surviving spouses of veterans eligible for the low interest loans administered through the program.

The program to provide loans of up to $15,000 for the purchase of 10 acres or more of land does not involve tax money, and has been in operation since 1946.

Amendment No. 3

A proposal permitting a judge to deny bail to a person who is charged with committing a felony while free on bail from another felony charge.

The plan was part of Gov. Dolph Briscoe's anticrime package approved by the 1977 legislature, and supporters say it would provide a mechanism to keep career criminals from continuing to commit crimes while awaiting trial.

The proposal is opposed by the Texas Civil Liberties Union, which contends it jeopardizes a constitutional right to bail.

Amendment No. 4

Authorization for local taxing agencies to give special tax breaks to cultural, historical or natural history resources to encourage their conservation.

Amendment No. 5

Provides constitutional authorization for agricultural and marine producers to form associations to levy assessments against all producers of a certain product, with the revenue to be used for promotion and research.

Similar programs already in effect were invalidated by a 1973 Texas Supreme Court decision. Under the proposal, agricultural producers could apply for and receive refunds of their assessments if they did not want to participate in the program.

Opponents argue there should be no mandatory assessments, and say those not desiring to participate should not be required to go through the procedure of paying assessments and then applying for refunds.

Amendment No. 6

Authorizing the legislature to provide for use of electronic fund transfer systems by banks in Texas.

Amendment No. 7

Changes the name of the Judicial Qualifications Commission to the State Commission on Judicial Conduct, and expands the authority of the agency discipline state judges.

Voters in four Texas counties also will be electing state legislators to fill vacancies created by resignations. New state representatives will be elected in Austin, El Paso and Dallas, and voters in the Amarillo area will be choosing a new state senator.

This is lignite coal...

It saved TP&L customers more than $81 million last year.

Yes, the price of electricity supplied by Texas Power & Light Company has gone up in recent years, but lignite coal has kept the increase from being much greater.

For many years, natural gas was the only fuel used to produce electricity at TP&L generating plants. It was cheap and plentiful. Then, in the 1960's, the price of gas began to rise drastically and supplies became uncertain. TP&L and two affiliated companies began a massive program to reduce their dependency on gas by building plants which use lower-cost lignite coal as fuel.

Since 1971, five lignite-fueled generating units have been placed in operation. In 1976, about one-third of the electricity supplied by TP&L was produced with lignite. For the average residential customer who used 10,666 kilowatt-hours of electricity during the year this meant a saving of more than $46.00.

Today, more lignite-fueled plants are under construction and being planned. The high cost of building these plants and other effects of inflation will cause the base price of electricity to continue to rise, but as TP&L produces more electricity with lignite and less with gas the saving will be passed on to TP&L customers.

Longview Vs. Lufkin In 14-AAAA

Longview's Lobos did not cap the District 14-AAAA crown Friday night as reported in the Sunday edition of the Daily Star-Courier.

Longview was open Friday night but their chief rivals for the 14-AAAA title, Lufkin and Nacogdoches, both played. It was reported in Sunday's issue that Lufkin lost 28-7 to Marshall and that Nacogdoches lost 30-27 to Texarkana, thus giving the title to Longview.

However, Lufkin actually beat Marshall 27-8. The wrong score reported in our Sunday issue was the result of a wrong score carried statewide by the United Press International.

That means, Longview and Lufkin remain in contention for the 14-AAAA title. Those two teams play each other Friday. Longview has a 9-0 season record and Lufkin is 8-1 on the year. Longview is 5-0 in district play while Longview is 4-1.

Plano won the District 13-AAAA representation rights Friday with a 28-6 blasting of Demson. Plano now has a 8-1-1 season record and 7-0-1 district record.

Plano and the winner of 14-AAAA, Longview or Lufkin, will play in the bi-district playoffs either Friday, Nov. 18 or Saturday, Nov. 19.

Allen 8th Rips Red Oak, 28-0

Troy Taylor returned the opening kickoff 75 yards for the Allen eighth grade Eagles and he added another three touchdowns to enable the Eagles to fly past Red Oak Thursday night, 28-0.

James Cardwell tacked on the two-point conversion for the Eagles to give them an 8-0 lead.

Neither team was able to score in the remaining moments of the first quarter. Taylor, however, got the Eagles back on the board on a 44-yard option keeper to put Allen out in front 14-0. The conversion failed and the Eagles went into the half leading 14-0.

Allen could not get in the end zone in the third quarter but erupted for 14 points in the fourth quarter.

Taylor, who seems to be at his best when outside the opponents 40-yard line, turned in another long run, a 44-yarder, for his third touchdown of the game and a 20-0 lead. Cardwell added another two-points to that total on the conversion.

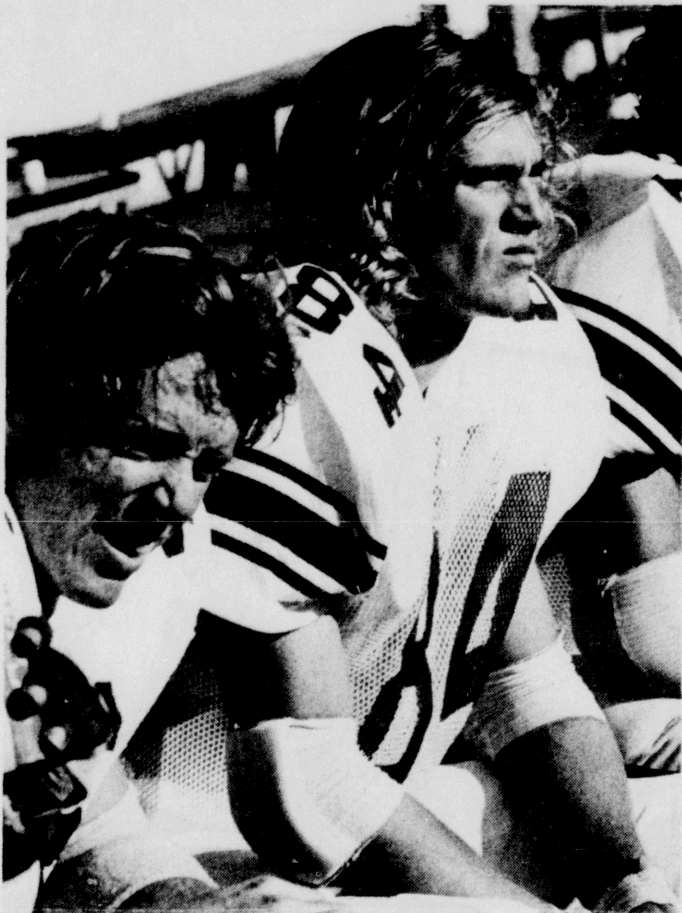

The Eagles last touchdown came on a 73-yard run by Taylor with the point after attempt by Taylor failing.

Standouts for the Eagles offensive unit which had 264 yards rushing on the day were Taylor, Cardwell and Allen Davis.

Defensively, standouts were Kyle Harris and Scott Griffin.

The Eagles will put their undefeated record on the line next Tuesday in their final game of the season against Forney at Forney.

Ford at Rice

Walter Ford catches up on some rest on the bench in Saturday's SMU-Rice game at the Cotton Bowl. Ford, a 1976 graduate of Plano Senior High, played defensive end and on special teams in Rice's 41-24 loss. Ford, who possesses sub-10 second speed in the 100-yard dash, drew double team blocking from SMU. (Staff Photo by Ed Voss).

Nine Zone Softball Races Decided

After 550 games, nine out of 10 Zone or Divisional races have been decided in the 1977 Fall Softball League sponsored by the Plano Parks and Recreation Department.

In the Men's Open League, American Division play, the East race had Allman Landscaping defeating Stewart Engineering to improve its record to 8-1 and win the title by three games. However, second place is being hotly contested as Stewart Engineering loser of three out of the last four games, Electros and the Plano Jaycees all tied for second place with 5-4 records. The Stars and Raldon Homes both occupy the cellar with 2-7 records.

In the Central Zone, Cannon Taylor rallied from eight runs down to defeat second place Style Tex to run its record to 8-1 and the championship. Style Tex and the 500 Club, winners of four straight, face a second place showdown game. Capital Wire and Cable continued their improving ways as they defeated Molanor Plumbing in a rain shortened contest. Pizza Hut continued their one run losses as their record dipped to 2-7.

Park Central ran its record to 7-1 as they defeated the Hawks and Heller Landscaping. Fast rising Wild Bunch made it three wins in a row by blitzing Goodnight Automotive and upsetting the Hawks who dropped their second straight game. The wins moved the Wild Bunch to 4-5 and the Hawks dipped to 5-3. Fox and Jacobs remained the closest to Park Central as their record stands at 7-2 as they defeated hapless Goodnight Automotive.

In the American Division West Zone, the Masters stand out 9-0 as they defeated Country Place and Otis Engineering the last two weeks. Freed's Freeloaders remained just one game behind with an 8-1 record as they defeated the Neighbors and Sound Climax. Freed's and the Masters square off Sunday afternoon at 3:30 p.m. for the Zone Championship.

The Neighbors improved their seasonal record to 5-4 as they defeated Country Place before losing to Freed's. Country Place however was removed from the winless list as they defeated Sound Climax in the battle of winless teams. Sound Climax continues to play all games close but cannot find the winning combination.

In the National Division, Toy Barn-Country Burger suffered their first loss of the season to what is the hottest team in the league—Switzer TV. The loss, however, left Toy Barn in first place and coupled with their win over Allen Meadows Day School captured the Zone Title.

The race for second place is still wide open as First Baptist Black finished the season at 9-3, one-half game ahead of the Yankees who are 8-3. The Yankees face a make-up game with Toy Barn that could decide second place in the tough East Zone. Switzer TV has reeled off three wins in a row as they stand at 4-6 with the rainout games left to be played.

Softball Continues

Playoff time has arrived in the Plano Parks and Recreation Dept. adult softball leagues. Nine of 10 zone or divisional championships have been decided entering play this week. The PARC has conducted play in Men's Open, Men's Church and Women's Open Leagues. (Staff Photo by Mike Newman).

in last place as their losing streak reached five in a row as they were defeated by 1st Baptist Black and the Damn Yankees. The win by the Damn Yankees moved them out of last place as their record stands at 2-7.

In the Central Zone, Triangle Electric raced to win over Rains Plumbing to finish the season at 11-1. Lindsay Printing suffered an upset at the hands of the 1st Baptist Reds to finish in second place 1 1/2 games out of first with 9-2 record. Midas suffered a loss at the hands of Lindsey to snap a three game winning streak to make their season ending record at 6-5.

First Baptist Red ran into a tough ARCO outfit and suffered their fifth loss of the season as ARCO ran their record to 4-7. OKC continued to drop one run games as Triangle Electric came from behind to win an extra inning affair 10-9.

In the Power Zone—West Zone—Leader K-John has rolled to 11-0 season march and captured the Zone Championship for the fourth straight season. Larry Young Custom Homes finished in second place two games off the pace as they suffered an upset loss at the hands of fast improving Royal Custom Pools.

Nixon Insulation after three straight wins has suffered consecutive losses to Larry Young and Royal Pools. Sports Distributors rests at 4-6 as they defeated the Great Escape and Spring Park before falling to Zone winner K-John.

Most of the Men's Open Teams will be involved this week in the City Open Playoffs at Schell Park beginning Monday, Nov. 7.

In Men's Church league action, Heights Baptist Church captured the American Division title in a rain abbreviated session as their record stands at 9-0 but they enjoy a four game bulge with only three left to play. However, the story of the American Division is the fast rising Swinging Brethren Team which has off three wins in a row to bring their season record to 5-6 as they are peaking for the playoffs which begin Tuesday, Nov. 8.

First Baptist Red and St. Mark's "A" are locked into a fight for second place as St. Marks has finished their season with a 7-5 record. 1st Baptist Red rests at 7-4 with one game remaining. St. Elizabeth's "A" saw their record drop to 4-6 as they suffered losses to 1st Baptist Red.

In the National Division, St. Marks "B" rang Prairie Creek's bell as they delivered Prairie Creek's second loss of the season. Prairie Creek, however, enjoys a 9-2 slate with only one game left and a two game lead over a trio of teams. St. Marks "B" and the Disciples Christian teams both rests at 7-4 and 6-4 respectively as they are preparing for their second place showdown game. Meadows Baptist has quietly moved to a 6-4 record and has two games remaining with one of those against Zone Champions Prairie Creek Baptist.

West Plano Presbyterian hit an end of the season slump but enjoyed a fine first year slate at 4-6 as they were defeated by Prairie Creek and Meadows Baptist. Plano Demolay upset Disciples Christian Church to move their record to a season ending 4-8. St. Elizabeths "B" continued to drop the close games as they were defeated by Disciples Christian.

In Womens Open League action, the Plumbers and Blazers stand tied at 10-1 and will face off against each other Monday night for the championship of the Fall Womens Open League. A real battle has shaped up for third place as the Fireballs 6-5, Dallas North Shell 5-5, and Meadows Baptist 5-5, all have games remaining with each other.

OKC notched their second win of the season as they raced to a win over the N.B.I. Hatters. Action last week had the Blazers defeating OKC as the Plumbers blanked Dallas North Shell. Meadows returned to the win column by defeating the hapless Hatters.

SWC Race Analyzed

By MIKE RABUN
UPI Sports Writer

It's time for the semifinal bout on this year's Southwest Conference fight card, bringing together a couple of challengers who are quite accustomed to the position. But no matter who wins this week's major attraction between the once-beaten and seventh-ranked Arkansas Razorbacks and the once-beaten and ninth-rated Texas A&M Aggies, the final issue is not going to be settled until Thanksgiving weekend.

And, in the long range forecast of which team might wind up in the Cotton Bowl Jan. 2 — against in all likelihood Notre Dame — it doesn't look good for Arkansas.

If Texas A&M should defeat Arkansas in College Station this week, the Razorbacks would be removed from the conference title picture since it would be their second league loss.

That would set up the probability of a shootout Nov. 26 between the Aggies, still without a loss in the SWC and the No. 1 Texas Longhorns, who steamrolled along last week with a 35-21 conquest of Houston.

But even if Arkansas does whip the Aggies Saturday, leaving both A&M and the Razorbacks with one conference loss, the picture still looks bleak for the Hogs.

The best Arkansas could realistically hope for then would be a tie for the league title and Texas, of course, would have to lose for that to happen.

Texas probably is not going to lose to TCU this week or to Baylor next week so the only real chance for a loss would come against Texas A&M.

And if Arkansas, Texas A&M and Texas all tie for the crown, Texas A&M would go to the Cotton Bowl because of those three teams they have been away from the bowl the longest — last playing there in 1968 against Alabama.

Last week's games probably put a brief end to one topic of conversation — the Houston Cougars recruiting of Darrel Shepard. But it started another — the lack of attendance at SMU.

Shepard, whose recruitment by Houston away from Texas produced an NCAA probation for the Cougars, fumbled his only snap late in the first half against the Longhorns, setting up Texas' go-ahead touchdown.

At the Cotton Bowl, only 6,918 people came out to see the Rice-SMU aerial battle.

Wildcats Vs. Pearce In Volleyball Playoff

Plano Senior High School's girl's volleyball team will travel to Richardson Pearce on Tuesday, Nov. 8 in the District 13-AAAA playoffs.

Gametime is 7:30 p.m. and admission has been set at $1 per person.

Four teams are vying for the 13-AAAA volleyball title—Plano, Pearce, Richardson and Sherman.

The winner of the Plano and Pearce game will play the winner of the Richardson Vs. Sherman game for the district representation rights in the state playoffs. Richardson and Sherman will play Thursday.

The tournament was created after a four-way tie resulted in regulation district play.
